

Guidelines for Kwansei Gakuin University Graduate Program Admission through Partner University Nomination
2023 Spring semester / Fall semester enrollment (2022 Fall Application)

Kwansei Gakuin University (KGU) has an admission system which accepts excellent international students from our partner universities nomination. In this admission, KGU offers a scholarship covering the admission fee and the full amount of tuition for the standard length of the program to a designated number of successful candidates. In addition, KGU will nominate the recipients of this scholarship to the Japanese Government (MEXT) Scholarship which gives them a monthly allowance, etc. (As the nominees need to satisfy qualifications and conditions designated by MEXT, KGU cannot guarantee the acceptance of a MEXT Scholarship.)

*The nominee of scholarship is selected from successful applicants for examination.

*If you are not selected for the MEXT scholarship, you can apply for the tuition reduction and KGU scholarship (see page 11).

The Graduate Course in UN and Foreign Affairs Studies

The Graduate Course in UN and Foreign Affairs Studies is a program of Multidisciplinary Studies for graduate students that aims to equip students with the practical knowledge and skills necessary to become future professionals at international organizations. Classes are conducted entirely in English, and taught by professors with extensive expertise in foreign affairs and diplomacy. If you wish to take this course, please contact the Integrated Center for UN and Foreign Affairs Studies for more details in advance.

During their time in the course, students will gain valuable experience through internships at UN agencies, international NGOs, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and other governmental organizations. An internship in an international organization or other appropriate organization is mandatory for the completion of the Course. If students enrolled in this program go outside of Japan for the internship, they should consult with the office in advance as the monthly allowance of the MEXT Scholarship may not be paid during the internship period.
